

THE MORNING APPEAL.

The Official Paper of Ormsby County
THURSDAY.....MARCH 28

CHANGES IN THE HOME.

J. M. Beebe Succeeds Mr. Grimmon.

Yesterday the Board having the Orphans' Home in charge met and elected J. M. Beebe of Reno to take charge of the Orphans' Home.

Mr. Westerfield named James Bradley of this city, Cutting named J. M. Beebe of Washoe, and Pratt said he would vote to retain the present incumbent. On the second ballot Westerfield changed to Beebe and he was declared the Superintendent and his wife the Matron of the Home. Mr. Pratt voted for Grimmon, Miss Mamie Moore was elected teacher to succeed Miss Summerfield. Miss Summerfield will remain however until the end of the term. The other positions have not yet been filled, but it is understood that they will be at the next meeting.

Mr. Beebe left the Republican ranks two years ago and joined issues with the Silaer party.

Silver in England.

Richard L. Everet, Member of Parliament, writes the following letter to a New Yorker from the House of Commons library, under date of March 15th: "Any mite which anything I can say or write will contribute to advance the cause of bimetalism I will thankfully contribute. I believe we are prepared in England, and in the House of Commons generally, to go a long way in restoring silver. Sir W. V. Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, is our difficulty as the President is yours. I am told that free silver has one or more very influential friends in the Cabinet. I think the question is advancing further under the cruel tuition of ever-falling prices. Great disasters impend over all gold-standard agricultural countries today, and while they begin with the agricultural classes, I am persuaded that they will not end with them. I hope you will keep pegging away on your side of the Atlantic, as assuredly we will here."

Sadler Arrested

News comes from Eureka that on Saturday last John Doyle had Lieutenant Governor Sadler arrested on the charge of embezzlement. Doyle had been a driver for Sadler's stage line and mail route, and he charges that Sadler kept back money that he had drawn from the Government, and withheld it from the drivers. Sadler gave bail in the sum of $500.

ALL SORTS.

Beef is advancing in this State.

H. M. Gorham passed through to Virginia City yesterday.

Look out for a change in Leslie Bell's big advertisement.

The present weather gladdens the heart of the grain grower.

Several more changes are looked for at the States Prison by the 1st of the month.

Five robbers attacked an express train near Somerset, Ky., yesterday and three were killed.

The Black Crook people will not play here, but the Smith and Beatrice Leib Co., will open here next week.

Seventeen members of the Order of Chosen Friends came up from Dayton last evening to attend a jollification in this city.

Twenty-six lawyers are now running their hands into the money left by Fair and architects are already at work on plans for a public poor house for the regular heirs.

A special cattle train left Carson last evening for San Francisco with cattle shipped by Tom Riekey. About 500 head will leave today, shipped by Conway Burbank & Co.

It seems pretty certain that quite a good sized gold ledge has been discovered near Pyramid Lake in the Fox range of mountains. The ledge is 40 feet wide with plenty of free gold.

Mrs. Booth, wife of the General of the Salvation Army, has been licensed by the Court of Ohio to solemnize marriage. By this action the army is legally recognized as a religious organization.

THE INCOME TAX BILL.

The Governor Vetoes the Measure Yesterday.

To the Honorable Secretary of State, Sir:

I return herewith, for filing in your office, Senate Bill No. 49, entitled 'An act to provide for the levy of a tax upon incomes and for other matters relating thereto,' without my approval.

My objections to Senate Bill No. 49 are as follows:

1st. Under the Constitution of this State, taxation of property is provided for. Having provided one mode of taxation every other mode would seem to be excluded by the maxim of interpretation, viz: The provision of one thing or mode, excludes every other mode.

2nd. The mode of taxation provided by this Bill is a clear departure from the mode prescribed by the State Constitution.

3rd. The Bill does not attempt to tax all income. It especially exempts from taxation incomes less than $1,000. No good reason is perceived for such exemption. The Bill discriminates against the tax payer by imposing a higher rate of taxation upon some incomes than upon others. For example: Upon incomes over $1000 and less than $1,500, a rate of one per cent is levied, while upon incomes exceeding $4,000, a rate of four per cent is levied. It cannot be said conformably to the spirit of Act X of the Constitution that such rate of taxation is either equal or uniform.

4th. The bill particularly enumerates certain sources of income which are subjects of taxation, but contains no general clause which in my opinion is broad enough to include many sources of income not specifically mentioned.

5th. Section 6 of the bill expressly exempts from taxation incomes derived from Building and Loan Associations. This exemption is in addition to and not included in the exemptions provided by article X of the Constitution of this State.

For these reasons and others which to my mind would tend to retard the investment of capital and the developments of the resources of the State, I withhold my approval.

Respectfully,
JOHN E. JONES
Governor.

Seems Incredible.

The story published in the Silver State about a Mr. Chrisman being left in an old abandoned tunnel nearly a month with out food or water, until discovered a few days ago, seems a rather heavy draft on the credulity of people at this end of the State. The Silver State is usually a reliable paper, but we think the date of the man's crawling into the tunnel is somewhat uncertain.

The account says that he was suddenly taken sick and crawled into the tunnel to escape the cold. He layed there a month before he was rescued, and by his side was found several bottles of water. The question is, how many bottles of water did he take in with him.

The account further says that he lived there all that time without food or water. Why he did not uncork one of his bottles and take a drink is not explained.

Run Into the Ground.

For the last few months the picture of Li Hung Chang, the Viceroy of China, has been run in the San Francisco dailies whenever he blows his nose. When he was shot in the jaw a few days ago, the Examiner ran the same old cuts again, two on one page, one occupying two columns and one three. We would suggest that the Examiner publish a good-sized picture of Li and mail it framed to each subscriber to hang up in the house during the continuance of the war.

Doctors generally agree that camphor is the deadliest foe to grip that is now known. A drop of camphor on the tongue is excellent to break up an incipient cold, but it is a painful remedy as it burns like a coal of fire. Much easier to take is a lump of camphor gum allowed to slowly dissolve in the mouth. The burning sensation is very much lessened and the help seems quite as certain.

Assemblyman Constant didn't make much by skipping out and repudiating his bills. He has been plastered all over the State as a dead beat and fugitive from justice, and all avenues of employment are closed to him, except to run for the Legislature in California some time and be elected by a large majority.

The California Legislature passed a pure food bill, but most of the effective clauses of Nevada's pure food bill were stricken out, and California dealers can still sell glucose and aniline dye under the name of blackberry jelly to Nevada people and its all right.

THE CLOSED MOUTHED ALLEN

HE NEVER TALKED POLITICS TO HIS RANCH HANDS.

A few days ago a Carson man was down in Churchill county and reaching Lem Allen's ranch, he concluded to call on the old political hay-seeder. Riding up to the gate, he asked a man in a casual way if "the Speaker of the House" was in.

"Who do you mean by that," asked the man leaning over the fence.

"I mean Lem Allen, Speaker of the House."

"Never heard him spoken of in that way round here."

"Don't you work for Lem Allen who was Speaker of the Seventeenth Session?"

"I work for Lem, but he ain't no session speaker as I know of."

"I suppose you know he was a member of the Legislature" was the next query.

"Never told the boys anything about it on the ranch. I supposed he went to Carson to run horses."

"Didn't you know he was running for the Assembly last fall?"

"Never heard a word of it. He never said nothing about it to me."

"Didn't you vote last Fall?"

"No, we waz all busy as thunder hayen and never heard of the 'lection until about Christmas. Heard Lem say the Silver party had raked the persimmons, but didn't know he waz in. Lem never talks much politics to the ranch boys anyhow. Guess he knew he had a sure thing, and didn't need our votes. Lem allers was close mouthed in politics anyhow. No, Lem ain't here today he's off some wheres fixin his ditches or perhaps he's runnin horse races at Pizen Switch."

Say stranger, ain't you jo-hin about Lem bein Speaker of the House. I'm goin to ask the family about it, and if it's so, we'll josh Lem to death about it. I thought he'd been keepin mighty quiet about his Carson trip."

Nixon Probably the Man.

The San Francisco Chronicle says that George Nixon has been offered the position of claim adjuster of the Southern Pacific and adds:

Mr. Nixon has had charge of the settlement of claims against the company in Nevada for many years past, and his work is regarded by H. E. Huntington as eminently successful and satisfactory. It is remarked in his favor that he can make close settlements, that he has a thorough knowledge of the law covering all cases which are presented for adjustment, and has the happy faculty of making friends instead of enemies of those with whom he does business. Mr. Nixon has been offered the position, and it is said that the chances are favorable for his acceptance.

Born.

In Grass Valley, Cal., March 25, 1895, to the wife of Frank Bryant, a 11 pound boy.

The horsemen at the track are getting ready for the fall races and training the horses daily. Petitions are to be circulated to the County Commissioners of the 1st district to appropriate money for the Fair, under the law and the same will be done in Reno.

There is going to be a great row in the Spreckel family in San Francisco. The old man and two of his sons are in the legal ring with two other brothers, and the hair will fly shortly. Death and no quarter is the motto of both sides.

There is trouble in Storey county over the license question. It is claimed that McCone's new act deprives Virginia City of over $800 a month license and that the city government can't be run without it.

The Kern County swamper have called on Governor Budd for assistance in their war with J. B. Haggin. It is only a dispute about some land. They want the same land that Haggin wants, hence the trouble.

The boys say that Wilson was the Senator that made such a big losing here.
